Julian —

This is the last you'll hear from me, promise. I built the JD Tyres site as a one-off while I was starting out, so I won't keep the free preview up forever — but it's still there for now if you've been meaning to look.

No charge to see it, £9.99 a month to keep it live if you like it, and nothing at all if you don't. No hard feelings either way — you've clearly built something people love.

If now's the moment, scan the code. If not, thanks for reading this far.
